MISFIT HUMOR.

There are divers times and seasons when for sundry human reasons man would rather nurse his sorrow than to listen to a jest; when emotions sentimental and reflections incidental claim possession of his headpiece and his broad and manly breast. There are moments when he's weary of this world that's passing dreary, and he wants to sit in silence thinking thoughts that smell of smoke; and at such a bitter season some one fit for spoils and treason nearly always comes to jar him with a punk and pallid joke. I have sat, too sad to frolic, with my stomach full of colic, drinking yaker tea from a dipper, while I sweated blood and swore; and a joker came and found me, told a string of yarns around me, till I smote him with a fig tree that was growing by my door. I have sat, of hope denuded; sat alone and mourned and brooded, for the gods I staked on Jeffries just a little year ago, and an aleck then narrated witticisms antiquated, heedless of my tears of anguish, blind to all my carking woe! Fellow-beings, young or hoary! Ye who deal in joke and story, deal in tales with snowy whiskers, look before ye spring your gags! If ye find your victims nursing bitter grief and sadly cursing, it were well to can your legends, or you'll tear their souls to rags!

WOMEN ARE ENTERTAINED.

Commercial Club Holds "Ladies' Day" in Club Garden.

Woman reigned supreme at the Commercial Club last night.

"Ladies' night" was a great success. The pretty summer garden in the rear of the clubhouse was brilliant with multi-colored Japanese lanterns strung from trees to trees.

Practically all of the club members spent a part of the evening under the trees. A number of guests were invited, including several members of the House District Committee.

The members of the house committee who had charge of the affair were Arthur C. Moore, chairman; John C. Davidson, E. C. Graham, Joseph H. Cranford, George Hendler, George F. Schutt, Thomas C. Noyes, and J. H. Small.

Coronation Films To-day.

Modern commercialism, wireless telegraph, the fastest ocean-going steamers, and human energy and ingenuity have made it possible for the great events in London a week ago when King George was crowned to be shown here this afternoon in motion pictures at the Virginia Theater.

MISS ELLIOTT LOCATED.

Missing Nurse Found with Sister in Pennsylvania.

After vainly searching the woods about the Zoo for the last two days in an effort to find Miss Mary I. Elliott, a nurse, fifty-five years old, who disappeared last Sunday from the home of Mrs. Allen N. Hunt, 4644 Wisconsin avenue, Inspector Boardman received a telegram yesterday afternoon from New Wilmington, Pa., saying that she was at the home of her sister, Miss Jennie Elliott, in that city.

Mrs. Hunt asked the Washington police to find Miss Elliott Sunday night, and reported the request yesterday.

Taft Family Leaves for Beverly To-day—Pretty Wedding at Elkins' Home When Miss Brown Is an Army Bride.

The White House will be a deserted spot after to-day, except for the summer tourists and the corps of cleaners and workmen who will take possession of the mansion for the spring renovation. The President and his family, including Miss Amy Sheridan, of Mount Savage, Md., and Mrs. S. C. Oliphant, of Trenton, mother of the maid of honor, Miss Helen Taft, who is the guest of Miss Grace Henry, in New York, will go to Hamilton, Mass., to-day for a visit to the Misses Meyer, and so with them to the Harvard boat races. She will join the family at the summer White House, at Beverly, for the Fourth of July celebration.

The Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Walter L. Fisher, left Washington yesterday for Pittsburgh, where he will deliver an address before his Greek letter fraternity to-day. He will go from there to Chicago, where he will remain over the Fourth of July with Mrs. Fisher and their family, who are established for the summer at Lake Forest.

The new Mexican Ambassador is expected to arrive in Washington late next week.

Baroness Uchida, wife of the Japanese Ambassador, who has been the guest of friends in Philadelphia for several days, returned to Washington last evening.

The marriage of Miss Katharine Davis Brown, daughter of the late Commander and Mrs. R. M. Brown, to Lieut. Chester Piersoll Barnett, Fifteenth Cavalry, U. S. A., took place yesterday at Grace-land, the country home of the bride's grandfather, former Senator Henry Gasaway Davis, at Elkins, Va. The ceremony was performed at noon in a parlor of the house by Rev. Frederick H. Barron, pastor of the Davis Memorial Presbyterian Church. The walls and ceilings were all covered with crimson ramblers in a framework, making an exquisite effect.

The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth Oliphant, of New Jersey, granddaughter of the late Senator Elkins, as maid of honor. Little Miss Ellen Bruce Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lee and cousin of the bride, acted as ring bearer. Miss Elsie Price, of Baltimore, another relative of the young bride, played the wedding music. Capt. Warren C. Dean, of the Fifteenth Cavalry, was best man. The petite bride, escorted by her venerable grandfather, descended the main staircase and entered the drawing-room to the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march.

The bride wore an embroidered gown of white satin, with a veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower of orchids and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore an embroidered French muslin. The bridegroom and his best man wore their full dress summer uniforms and added much to the picture. The wedding company included only relatives and most intimate friends.

Immediately after the breakfast, the bride and bridegroom left for a short honeymoon trip in the private car of Senator Davis, on the Western Maryland road. After next week they will be at home at Port Myer, where Lieut. Barnett is stationed, and where quarters have been course of preparation for them for a week.

The bride is very young, and was presented to society last season by her aunt, Mrs. Arthur Lee, with whom she has made her home since the death of her mother. She is but nineteen, and Lieut. Barnett is several years older. It is said that her portion of her grandfather's estate will be in the neighborhood of five millions, as her mother's portion went to her undivided. She was an only child. Mrs. Barnett is quite small and trim of figure, and strongly resembles her mother, who was Miss Kate Davis. Her wedding at Grace-land on a perfect June day was a strong reminder of the last wedding which took place there, that of Miss Grace Davis, the former Senator's youngest daughter, and Mr. Arthur Lee, with whom Senator Davis now makes his home. Their wedding took place about twelve years ago.

The wedding gifts of Lieut. and Mrs. Barnett are said to represent a fortune in gems alone. A grandniece of the bride sent her a check for $500, but the gift of her grandfather is not known.

Among the relatives who went to Elkins for the wedding were Lieut. John T. Barnett, U. S. A., retired, of Indianapolis, father of the bridegroom; Maj. and Mrs. George Downey, of this city, relatives of the bride; Lieut. Harrington, of Port Myer; former Senator Davis Elkins, and the Countess Dewia.

Others who attended were the Earl and Countess of Granard, the Earl and Countess of Kerry, the Earl and Countess of Minto, the Earl of Powis, the Earl and Countess of Yarborough, Earl Rosebery, Lords Bevilston, Lonsdale, and Tweedmouth, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Joseph and Lady Ward, Mrs. Lewis Harcourt, Mrs. Charles P. Taft, Mr. and Mrs. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Mr. John Pierpont Morgan, Mrs. Ava Walling Astor, Mrs. Anthony Drexel, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dodge, and Maj. and Mrs. Stocum.

At the dance after the dinner were the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden, the Crown Prince of Romania, the Maharaja of Indore, the Japanese and Turkish Ambassadors, the Duchesses of Marlborough, the Duchess of Manchester, the Duchess of Sutherland, the Duchess of Montrose, the Count and Countess of Gleichen, Lord and Lady Dalmeny, the Baron and Baroness of Parkman, Hon. and Mrs. James William Lowther, Richard C. Kerens, W. H. Crocker, and Richard Harding Davis.

"The average man and woman are not speed mad; the quality they are asking in an automobile is reliability under all conditions," says Bruce Emerson, of Emerson & Orme, local agents for the Regal. "Durability of construction, accessibility of parts, ease and certainty of control are the features they are most vitally interested in."

Washington's lack of adequate traffic regulations as well as ignorance of the law of the road by drivers, is no better demonstrated than at two of the most crowded crossings in the city where the streets are at present torn up. Though it is necessary to make a slight deviation from the accustomed path to avoid the torn-up portion that can hardly be construed to mean a man can deliberately drive to the wrong side of the street and then turn close to the curb opposite to the side of the street he is supposed to use according to traffic regulations of other cities. A few minutes before yesterday's storm when every one was seeking a place of safety, several collisions were narrowly averted. Policemen had their hands full looking out for pedestrians. Cars and teams all turned the near corner and as a result there was a grand mixup for a few moments. A set of traffic regulations properly enforced would soon cause all to become familiar with them and avoid much confusion.

Lack of interest is given as the reason for the postponement of the Baltimore hill climb which was scheduled to be held Saturday.

M. A. Weissensaufer, district sales manager for the Regal, was in the city yesterday as guest of Emerson & Orme, local representatives of the car. Speaking of trade conditions in this section, he said: "Of course, there is something of a falling off at this time of year, but it must not be forgotten that this is the first year of the present season. Next year's models will soon be out, but just what we will have I am not at liberty to say now, but it is something entirely distinctive at the price."

"Ted" Johnston, manager of the Bullock Motor Company, awarded the contract of remodeling the showroom in Connecticut avenue to Harding & Upman, at an expenditure of about $5,000.
